

The Characteristics of the Act of Special Education Revision in Taiwan

Sheng-Ru Wu^{1*}, Jin-Xing Qiu¹, Guo-Sheng Zhou², Xi-Hui Chen¹

¹National Taichung Special Education School, Taichung City, Taiwan

²National Pu-Li Vocational High School, Nantou County, Taiwan

*Correspondence address: National Taichung Special Education School, Taichung City, Taiwan

E-mail: wu6506@ms59.hinet.net

Abstract

The purposes of The Act of Special Education revised in 2009 are to accomplish the full education and to find the potential of students with disabilities. This revision demonstrates three major characteristics: respect the profession and professionals, accomplish the full education for students with disabilities and build up the systems of special education, which makes the special education in Taiwan keep pace with other countries.

Keywords: Act of Special Education, special education, education system