

A Prime Investigation on Paulo Freire Theory

Lin, Ban-Wen **

ABSTRACT

Paulo Freire is an Brazil educator. His thought, especially adult education theory, influence the third world and even the developed country. In this study, the author will make a summarized review of Freire and Brazil's adult education. In addition with discussion of Freire's theory and his practice from various aspects. Some questions for Freire's thinking of educational theory and practice, including cultural workers versus political actors, social change versus social movement, and localization versus 「localization」 are raised. And finally based on Freire's epistemology, conclusions are proposed for adult education of Taiwan.

Key words: Paul Freire, Adult Education